

GRADUATE STUDENTS
in the
HUMANITIES AND FINE ARTS are invited to attend

STRENGTHENING THE HUMANITIES AT UCSB

with Dean David Marshall
and members of the AAU Taskforce.

Monday May 23, 12-1.30
Crowell Reading Room, Interdisciplinary Humanities Center, 6020 HSSB

Topics to be explored include the public face of the humanities in the 21st century; flexible structures within and among disciplines; new models for graduate training, collaborative research, and mentorship; funding for programs, projects, and individual research.

This is one in a series of events addressing the American Association of Universities report Reinvigorating the Humanities: Enhancing Research and Education on Campus and Beyond (2004) (<http://www.aau.edu/reports/report1.cfm>).

For further information and background, please consult the website for the 4/27/05 conference Humanities@UCSB: a 21st-Century Project (<http://www.hfa.ucsb.edu/AAU.htm>).

Bring your lunch; beverages provided.
For more information, 893-2586.
